The Probationary service may be allowed to count for pension as he was doing work and not learning work.

As regards grant of a pension of Rs 500/- p.m. to him although his total qualifying service is less than 30 years, reference is invited to H. Secy's. note dated 1-4-35 in the S. & A. file 107-35-1 and 2 (placed below) pointing out that such a concession has been shown to certain officers in the past. This seems to be a fit case to extend the concession as he has been the Head of his department for a long time. All the three items may thus be sanctioned.

Subject.—

Proposal to grant a pension of Rs.500 per mensem to Sastravaidyapravina Dr. S. Subba Rao, retired Senior Surgeon.

The accompanying papers relate to the question of the pension to be granted to Sastravaidyapravina Dr. S.Subba Rao, who retired from service on 18th June 1938.

Dr. Subba Rao has put in a net qualifying service of 24 years, 4 months and 4 days, excluding the period of 1 year, 11 months and 29 days, which he spent on probation. Dr. Subba Rao represents that it is not possible for an officer of the Medical Department to put in the full service of 30 years to earn the maximum pension of Rs.6,000 a year on account of the length of the professional courses of study. He therefore, requests that the period of 4 years, which he spent in England as a Damodar Doss scholar may be considered as a deputation and that he be granted the full pension of Rs.6,000 per annum as a special case If the probationary period of Dr. Subba Rao is treated as qualifying for pension and if a deficiency of 7 months and 27 days is condoned, the total qualifying service would still be short of 30 years by a period of 3 years. But in view of the fact that Dr. Subba Rao has been head of the Medical Department for a long time, this seems to be a fit case for showing the concession which has been extended to several officers of similar status in the past and it is therefore proposed to grant Dr. Subba Rao a pension of Rs.500 per mensem

DEAR Sir,

As per Government order No. 2971-72/C.B.104-37-4 dated. 19-4-.. 1938 I am due to retire from service on 18th June 1938. I shall have put in a total service of 26 years and 4 months. The rule which is incorporated under Article 320(b) of M.S.R. requiring an officer to put in 30 years' service to earn a pension of Rs 6000 per year came into effect after I joined service. Before joining service, I was studying in England for 4 years with the help of a Damodardoss Scholarship, which for all practical purposes may be considered as a deputation. Besides, I may point out that it is almost impossible for a medical man to put in the full service of 30 years to earn the maximum pension of Rs 6000 a year on account of the length of the professional courses of study.

I request you therefore to move the Government to be pleased to grant me the full pension of Rs 6000 per annum as a special case.

Yours sincerely,

S. Subbarao.
